President: Dave Cooper

Matt Le Tissier...some may argue the greatest footballer ever to pull on the red and white of Southampton, and one of the most creative footballers in the English game. He wove magical spells with the ball in the 1990's; in his sixteen years at Southampton football club, he scored 209 goals in 540 appearances (462 starts). He has also represented England, earning 8 caps from 1994 to 1998, a ridiculously low return for someone of his talent.

Matt's decision to stay at Southampton football club his entire career earned him incredible popularity and respect with football fans. His skills on the football field did nothing to quench their desire for 'Le God' as he became known. Matt didn't just score easy tap-ins or average goals, a vast proportion of Le Tissier's goals were special. Matt would dribble it around (or sometimes over) whole defences, take venomous free kicks or hit audacious volleys. Matt also holds probably the best penalty taking record ever, slotting in 47 of 48 attempts.

Matt is now the star of Sky Sports Soccer Saturday and a columnist for skysports.com, as well as building a strong profile as an after dinner speaker.
